HESSTON COLLEGE VOLUNTEERS

While many college students relaxed during their spring break, a group of 12 Hesston College students gave their time volunteering here at RMMC. They repainted the guest rooms and bunk beds in lower Aspen and Tall Timbers cabins. A few of them also painted new banister uprights for the new deck at the Jungfrau chalet. Of course we still like to have fun with our volunteers so we made sure to teach them how to play Human Curling, which they mastered pretty well. They also took some time to explore camp and the mountains.

A big thank you to the group for giving up their spring break to volunteer.
